

Paul Lethbridge - Manifesto

I was born Exeter in 1969 and have lived in the city ever since. Exeter City has been a passion of mine since I attended my first game in the mid seventies and I remember the days of John Newman and Bobby Saxton as fondly.

I have enjoyed many happy times at St. James Park over the years, although the lows have outweighed the highs. However I do attend a number of away games each season, where the reverse is probably true. If I am elected, I will strive to make the club a better place for our own fans to visit, to hopefully enjoy more success on our home patch.

I understand that sponsorship for games is down this year and through my experiences of attending many matches as a sponsor I feel I would be able to influence things in this area and help the club's Commercial Department. The club is an important part of the community and with my business experience I feel I can help the Trust and club.

The most important thing for me is not only maintaining the current membership of over 3000, but also increasing it and as a result put the Trust in a stronger financial position, so we can in turn help the club.

In conclusion I am a lifelong Grecian and I would like the opportunity to help my club in anyway I can. It is too easy to sit back and just criticise and I want to be involved and try to make a difference!
